

Tuesday is an exciting day at Photosymbols. It's the day when we add all the new pictures to the library.

This week we added photos of Changing Places Toilets. Many disabled people need more space and equipment like a hoist or a bed to use public toilets.

Changing Places Toilets help lots of disabled people to visit places like shopping centres, making it easier to leave home, work, and travel.

You could use our new pictures in Easy Read guides, in your Changing Places campaigns, or to tell visitors about your own accessible toilets.

Photosymbols pictures are all about the lives of people with learning disabilities. Our expert advisers help us to plan and check them.

If you have an idea for a new picture, go to the top right of your screen in Photosymbols, click your name and then click Suggest Picture.

We want to see your Easy Read! We love to get new ideas by seeing what you're working on. You can email us on ask@photosymbols.com
